Why Legal Compliance?

Clarity about the law helps people
do things right

“Our board wants comfort we are doing things right when it comes to the law.

They want a robust process operating in the business and reporting that is engaging and informative at the governance level.”

“I want to do things right. To do this I need to know what I need to know. Please don't just assume I know the detail of the law and its never-ending changes. I need a tool to help me do this.”

“Relying on lengthy compliance manuals or spreadsheets to identify and manage legal risks in the modern business environment is like taking a pen-knife to a gunfight.”

What does Legal Compliance give you?

A tool to give comfort that your legal obligations are being identified, understood and effectively reported on.

Humanised law

Legal obligations are identified and translated into plain-English, with links to guidance. Always up-to-date.

Map responsibilities

Legal obligations are mapped to the responsible roles in your organisation.

Identify risks

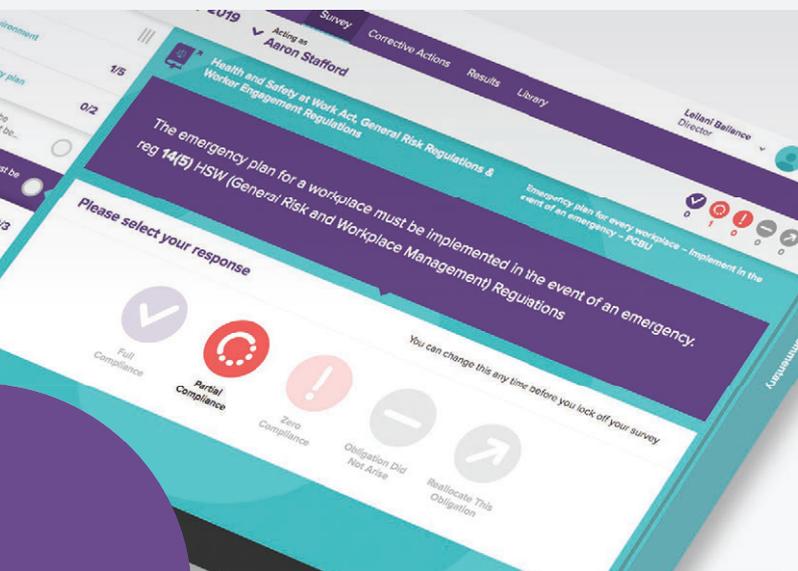

The legal compliance survey function gives your people the ability to proactively identify legal risks.

Complete support

Our legally-qualified Customer Success Team experts support you every step of the way.

Business leaders love receiving quality information presented in an engaging way - especially when it comes to legal compliance.

Software that lives to give people clarity about the law and make it easy to identify and manage compliance risks.
